Fish and Fishing Group Exhibition

April 12 - May 1, 2015

Monday – Friday, 10 am to 5pm.

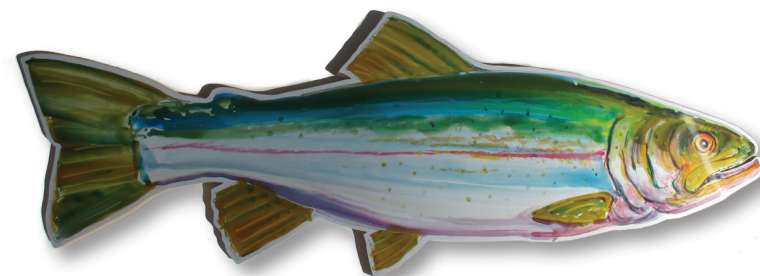

For years in late April or early May folks in the little sleepy fishing town of Naples would see "Gone Fishing" signs in store windows. After the "snowbirds" and vacationers left for the season, the locals would close up shop and have some fun before the hurricane season started. Today the town and surrounding areas have grown and the season has lengthened and but for a handful of mom-and-pop, long established businesses, many keep their doors open year-round now.

We conclude the 52nd season exhibition schedule at the Harmon-Meek Gallery with a group show built around the theme of fish and fishing as a subject in American Art. Works in the show include new pieces by Don Nice and works pulled from estates' storage and artists' studios including: Adolf Dehn, Balcomb Greene, Herman Maril, Lorrie Goulet, Babette Bloch, Eliot O'Hara, Philip Morsberger, Stephen Scott Young, Jessica Daryl Winer and Ellie Barnet.

Following this exhibition, the Harmon-Meek Gallery will be open by appointment only until November 1st. Our new location, Harmon-Meek|modern will remain open through the summer months.
